

The Akron PeaceMakers and the Akron Police Department present

You and the Law

Guidelines for Interacting with Law Enforcement

In light of recent negative incidents involving citizens and police; especially the Tamir Rice shooting in Cleveland, the Akron PeaceMakers have developed, with the assistance of the Akron Police Department, a tool instructing youth on how to have a positive experience when stopped by an officer.

50,000 “You and the Law” palm cards are being distributed to schools (both public and private), community centers, churches and to other Akron area organizations.

“The easiest way to avoid negative run-ins with law enforcement officials is simply to stay out of trouble.”

If you or your group would like to have a supply of the “You and the Law” palm cards, call Willa Keith, program coordinator, at 330-375-2712 or Billy Soule, Assistant to the Mayor for Community Relations at 330-375-2660.

Coming Soon!

A booklet with a more in depth look at how citizens and police can interact in a more positive way.

(Check this website in late-March or early April)

Akron Public Schools

Click here to view the “You and the Law” palm card